General Services
Human Resources

GMH Identification addresses the needs and demands of site managers, general services, logistics and human resources.

A global and optimized offer

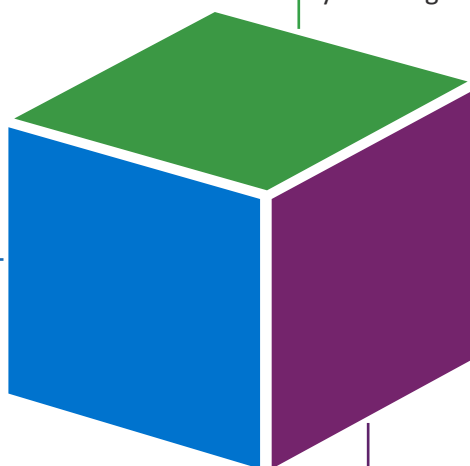

Over the last 20 years, GMH Identification has developed three complementary activity fields to address all its customers' needs :

GMH 2i - IT Identification

Software Publication, standard and specific, a means of coordinating all the activities related to occupant services (management of meeting rooms, processing of logistic actions...) and security within the company (visitor management, access control ...). Its experience with accounts for major clients has enabled GMH 2i to develop software which complies with security contexts and has the functional features necessary to ensure complete integration into complex IT environments.

GMH Ci - Identification Consumables

Supply of identification accessories and other expendables. GMH Ci offers a wide range of services, extending from the supply of badges, print consumables, access badges and RFID tags, ranging to the manufacturing of accessories (lanyards, spools ...) and badges customized to your image.

GMH Mi - Identification hardware

Distribution and integration of identification peripherals. With certification by the biggest manufacturers on the market, GMH Mi advises you in the choice of peripherals for badge customization, access authentication, automation and dematerialization. GMH Mi delivers, installs and maintains a catalog of more than 300 products, from badge printer to identity document reader from dynamic display screen to access control reader. Working in close cooperation with its industrial partners enables GMH Mi to supply you with high performance configurations addressing your specific needs.
